

AMS HDC 4000 AND HDC 6000 CONVEYORS

With Catcher Tray

Improves the efficiency and presentation of your mailing processes

What Does It Do?

Volume mailings require efficient material handling and AMS conveyors provide solutions for this need. Our conveyors are designed to improve the drying times of printed material. They also come complete with stand and a catcher tray to provide clean stacking.

AMS even gives you the option to adjust or remove the catcher tray or convert it to shuttle up so that mail can easily be transported to other equipment.

Choice

The HDC conveyor comes in two versions, the HDC4000 has a 1.2m (4ft) conveyor track and the HDC6000 has a 1.8m (6ft) conveyor track. Both have a 300mm wide heavy duty belt and have adjustable speeds up to 72 metres per minute. The conveyors height can be adjusted to your requirements and there is an easy to use control panel to start and stop the conveyor.

Why Do I Need It?

AMS conveyors can be used with most of our mailing equipment. The key benefit to using a conveyor is the ability to improve the drying times of printing onto a wide range of materials. As well as this, conveyors can transport mail pieces to other equipment such as a tabbing machine to enable mailing processes to run quickly and smoothly.
